

APPROVED PROGRAMMES

Professional in Practice (PiP) Approved Programmes

PiP offers a wide range of taught programmes to enhance social work professional practice and competence. Social workers at different stages of their career may choose to embark on formal assessed professional development to consolidate undergraduate learning or to specialise in practice. There is flexibility to complete just one module or an entire programme.

This document provides 'at a glance' details of all programmes and lists them under their relevant PiP Professional Awards – Consolidation Award, Specialist Award or Leadership & Strategic Award. Please note that a number of programmes are available at more than one award and will therefore be listed under each relevant award.

If you are unsure which programmes may be for you or require further information on how the programmes will help to meet your learning and development needs within your employment, please consult your PiP Agency Representative.

There are two overarching umbrella programmes each with a selection of Pathways: one at Queen's University Belfast and the other at Ulster University – selection can be made within each of these for completion of part or full academic/professional awards.

MSc in Applied Social Studies – Queen's University Belfast

MSc in Professional Development – Ulster University and additional provision by other Education Providers which include: The Health and Social Care Leadership Centre and The Tavistock and Portman NHS Trust in collaboration with University of Essex.

Providing Psychological Interventions at Levels 1 & 2	SWK 8095

Target Group

The course is available to all health and social care professional groups who wish to learn basic Cognitive Behavioural Therapy methods. The Postgraduate Certificate is offered in two 12 week semesters over one year.

Delivery

The course is delivered by a multi-disciplinary group of accredited skilled Cognitive Behavioural Therapy staff currently involved in clinical practice and research.

Focus

The main aim of this course is to inform practice within levels 1 and 2 of a stepped care model (low-intensity psychological interventions) for mental health and in primary care or social care settings. The course will provide teaching and learning in mental health awareness, an introduction to CBT theory and methods and low intensity interventions for professionals working in health and social care programmes.

Assessment

Assessment is by essays, case studies and DVD-Recorded role plays.

Entry Requirements

All applicants must have:

- 2:2 Honours degree or equivalent qualification acceptable to the university. Applicants who do not meet this academic requirement but hold a professional qualification will be considered on an individual basis
- Evidence of working with people who have experienced a mental health problem
- A broad understanding of mental health issues
- Good written and verbal communication skills
- Good organisational and computer skills
- Been enrolled on the PIP Consolidation Award on the NISCC portal.

Dual Diagnosis Programme

Module Title	Module Code	Professional Requirements	Academic Credits	Location & Contact Details
Dual Diagnosis – An Introduction	SWK 8097	No. of Modules: 3	60 credits at M Level	QUB
Dual Diagnosis – Assessment and Intervention	SWK 8098	Requirements: 1 – 6 (Full Award)		Dr Anne Campbell Programme Co-ordinator QUB
Dual Diagnosis – Working with Specific Service User Groups	SWK 8099			Tel: 90975990 Email: a.campbell@qub.ac.uk

Target Group

This multidisciplinary pathway is aimed at social workers, addiction professionals, mental health workers and workers from allied health and social care sectors.

Delivery

The modules are delivered on a multidisciplinary basis and tutors come from social work, nursing, mental health and addictions specialist professions.

Focus

This course enables workers to gain an understanding of dual diagnosis, including definitions, UK and regional contexts and the application of theory in practice.

Assessment

Assessment is by two 3000 word assignments for modules one and two. The third module requires one 2500 word assignment plus an appraisal of relevant research assignment using CEBSS or CASP tools.

Entry Requirements

Social work applicants will normally hold a 2.2 Honours degree or above or equivalent qualification acceptable to the University, or the Pre-2007 post-qualifying award in social work. Where this academic requirement is not met, applicants must satisfy the Programme Director that their experience and qualifications equip them to undertake postgraduate study through the completion of a written assignment. Social work applicants must also possess a social work qualification recognised by the Northern Ireland Social Care Council, be registered with the Council and should have completed the Assessed Year in Employment or have at least one year post-qualifying experience if graduated prior to the AYE implementation. They should also be enrolled on the PiP Consolidation Award on the NISCC portal.

Applicants not holding one of these qualifications are required to satisfy the Programme Director of their suitability for postgraduate study by completing a 2000-word assignment. In addition, prospective applicants must have experience of working with clients with a mental disorder and/or substance misuse problems. Where an applicant does not have prior experience of working with people with a mental disorder and/or substance misuse problems they should undertake appropriate preparation before and/or during Module 1 of the training programme.

Initial Professional Development Programme

Module Title	Module Code	Professional Requirements	Academic Credits	Location & Contact Details
Developing Professional and Inter professional Practice	SWK 704	No. of Modules: 3 Requirements: 1 – 6 (Full Award)	60 credits at M Level	Agency based in collaboration with UU Agency Contact: (via PiP Agency Representatives) Academic Contact: Dr Judith Mullineux Programme Co-ordinator Ulster University Tel: 90366554 Email: jc.mullineux@ulster.ac.uk
Professional Decision Making in Social Work	SWK 705
Professional Practice in Family and Child Care	SWK 706
Professional Practice in Health, Disability and Services for Older People	SWK 707
Professional Practice in Mental Health and Learning Disability	SWK 708

Target Group

This course is aimed at recently qualified social workers who have successfully completed the Assessed year in Employment.

Delivery

The programme is delivered by staff at Ulster University and agency representatives across the voluntary and statutory sector.

Focus

The Initial Professional Development programme (IPD) consists of three modules (two core and one optional):

- Developing professional and inter-professional practice (core)
- Professional practice in family and childcare (optional)
- Professional practice in mental health and learning disability (optional)
- Professional practice in health, disability and services for older people (optional)
- Professional decision making in social work (core)

Successful completion of three modules leads to the Consolidation Award in Social Work and 60 Masters' level academic credits.

The IPD programme requires workers to have the ability to reflect on, and to demonstrate, how they have developed their professional competence beyond qualification. This requires critical thinking not only on their own area of practice but also on wider developments in social work/welfare that can, and do, impact on direct practice.

Assessment

A variety of assessment methods include online activities, an online journal, assignments, extended essays and portfolio.

Entry Requirements

Applicants must:

- Be registered with NISCC on the social work part of the register
- Hold a degree in social work, or recognised equivalent qualification in social work for those qualified before 2007. Those who do not have a second class honours degree or higher will be required to complete a written assignment as specified by Ulster University
- Be in employment in a post where the core social work activities of assessment, planning, intervention and evaluation underpin their practice. This can be part-time, but workers must be able to meet the course requirements in terms of hours of teaching, private study, and supervised practice
- Have a supervisor who is a professionally qualified social worker
- Have their agency's agreement to the requirements of the programme relating to support, supervision and access to appropriate work
- Have successfully fulfilled the AYE requirements
- Be registered as a student with Ulster University
- Be enrolled on the PiP Consolidation Award on the NISCC portal.

Probation Observed Professional Practice	SWK 701	Requirements: 1,5 and 6

Target Group

This programme is designed for newly qualified Social Workers who have completed their Assessed year in Employment and also for Social Workers moving into Probation/Criminal Justice practice either for the first time or following a period of absence.

Delivery

The programme is delivered by PBNI agency staff in collaboration with Ulster University.

Focus

The content focusses on law, theory, policy, procedures and practice issues (inc relevant PBNI Standards) in relation to young people and adults who have committed criminal offences and explores ethical responses in assessing, responding to and managing this behaviour, rooted in a social work value base. The course will address issues of causation, risk, motivation, choice and change; professional report writing and record keeping; decision making systems; inter-professional and inter-agency working; assessment and planning tools particular to people who have committed criminal offences.

Assessment

Assessment is based around three pieces of coursework:

- A service user assessment in relation to offending behaviour eg. Pre-Sentence Report, Suitability for Hostel Placement, or other related assessment. Candidate to complete a 2000 word analysis, evaluation and reflection on piece of work.
- A work/supervision plan in relation to a person involved in offending behaviour. Candidate to complete a 2000 word analysis, evaluation and reflection on piece of work.
- An observed interaction implementing any aspect of action phase of a programme of intervention aimed at addressing offending behaviour. The assignment will be based upon the live observation of the candidate's practice. Candidates will prepare a 500 word outline and analysis of the purpose and aims of the session to be with their practice assessor prior to the observation, and will then complete a further 1500 word analysis, evaluation and reflection on the session, also incorporating their learning in relation to feedback from the observer.

Entry Requirements

Enhancing Outcomes for Children in State Care	SWK 8057

Target Group

The module is relevant to all child and family social workers including those working with children in state care.

Delivery

The programme is delivered by QUB in collaboration with the British Association of Adoption and Fostering (BAAF). Both academic and agency staff are involved in the assessment process.

Focus

Module one provides a comprehensive, thorough and in-depth review of theories and research on attachment, object-relations and trauma; resilience; ecological and systems theories. The module will also explore child development theories and a critical review of law, policy and standards of practice.

Module two requires social workers to explore issues related to assessment and management of risk; and the development of empowerment based skills.

The third module aims to strengthen participants' knowledge and understanding of how outcomes for children in state care might be enhanced, and to improve participants' skills in working directly with children and families in state care.

Assessment

Assessment is via assignments, reflective analyses and direct observation of practice.

Entry Requirements

- Applicants should normally hold a second class honours degree or higher. Where this academic requirement is not met they must satisfy the programme that their experience and qualifications equip them to undertake postgraduate study through a written assignment
- Applicants must also possess a social work qualification recognised by the Northern Ireland Social Care Council and be registered with the Council

Critical Perspectives on Counselling	CMM 717
Integration and Eclecticism in Counselling	CMM 759
Research Methods	CMM 816

Postgraduate Certificate = 3 compulsory modules
 Postgraduate Diploma = 6 compulsory modules + 1 optional module
 * Optional modules

Target Group

The course is designed to meet the professional training needs of people who are involved in counselling roles and who work in a number of distinct professional contexts. This course is not intended to facilitate a career move into counselling but is geared towards enhancing the knowledge and skills of those currently employed within a range of helping contexts.

Delivery

The programme is delivered by Ulster University, School of Communication. The content is taught by counsellors and counselling psychologists who are accredited by the National Counselling Society (NCS).

Focus

The Counselling Studies and Therapeutic Communication course offers theoretical knowledge and an academic foundation in counselling and psychotherapy for a variety of helping skills in professional contexts.

The course provides:

- Structured Continuing Professional Development opportunities for individuals who use counselling skills in a range of practice contexts
- Flexibility through optional study to allow students to pursue specialist areas of interest
- A good balance of theoretical and skills training relevant to student need
- A well balanced grounding in the theoretical and practical study of communication in the applied counselling context
- A solid grounding in research methods and skills that will enable students to carry out independent research
- An understanding of key contextual areas relevant to students' work experience and the ability to evaluate their own professional practice.

The course provides candidates with an understanding of the dimensions and strategies of counselling; a knowledge of human feelings and emotions; such as anxiety, guilt, depression, apathy, anger and hostility; the evolution of a set of internalised beliefs and values which are basically non-judgemental; contribute to a sensitivity to the needs and responsibilities of individuals in multicultural societies; ability to monitor and evaluate the outcomes of their own professional practice.

The programme on its own does not qualify the candidate to practise as a counsellor but provides approximately 200 taught hours of training that may be used to contribute to accreditation with professional bodies (please contact relevant professional body directly for guidance on accreditation policy).

Students can complete modules as part of a CPD pathway, PG Certificate, PG Diploma or Master's degree.

Assessment

Assessment for this programme is via 100% coursework. Methods include essays, reports, case studies and reflective journals.

Entry Requirements

Normally a degree (or equivalent) and two years' experience in either a professional or voluntary role that involves counselling/counselling skills. Applicants should possess the personal qualities necessary to undertake progressive counselling training. An interview may form part of the selection process. Social work applicants should have the degree in social work or equivalent predecessor qualification. They should also be registered on the social work part of the NISCC register and have enrolled on the PiP Specialist Award on the NISCC portal.

Systemic Practice Skills and their Application to the Work Setting	SWK 8067
Personal and Professional Development in Systemic Practice	SWK 8068

Target Group

The programme is applicable to staff working in the care professions e.g. social work, psychology, education, nursing, teaching, medicine etc. Students receive Association of Family Therapy (AFT) professional accreditation as “Systemic Practitioners” on completion of year 2 of the programme (postgraduate diploma). This option is only available to those candidates with a recognised “prior professional qualification.” (e.g. Social Work).

Delivery

The course is mainly delivered by qualified family therapists who work in a wide range of services. This includes inputs from experienced practitioners in HSC Trusts and the voluntary sector. There are two planned inputs from international scholars to enrich the curriculum and enhance participants’ awareness of the broader community of systemic thinkers.

Focus

The focus of the programme includes systemic practice skills and their application to practice. There is also the opportunity to examine theory and research related to family and systemic practice. The programme builds on learning achieved from year 1 to year 2 and provides a balance of academic theory, skills development, personal development and application to the student’s work setting.

Assessment

Candidates are assessed by assignments, projects, learning portfolios, oral presentations, seminar papers and 60 hours of systemic practice.

Entry Requirements

All social work applicants must:

- Hold a recognised social work qualification and have successfully completed the Assessed Year in Employment
- Be registered with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council
- Normally have a 2.2 Honours degree or above or equivalent qualification acceptable to the University. Equivalent qualifications include the Pre-2007 Post-Qualifying Award in Social Work. Where this is not met, applicants must show that their experience and qualifications enable them to study at postgraduate level through the uptake of references and through completing a reflective assignment on their practice
- Be currently employed in a clinical or practice setting with access to a suitable service user group for practice and supervision purposes
- Have enrolled on the PiP Specialist Award on the NISCC portal.

- Be enrolled on the PiP Specialist Award on the NISCC portal.

Mental Health (Approved Social Worker) Programme

Module Title	Module Code	Professional Requirements	Academic Credits	Location & Contact Details
Social Work Practice Development in Mental Health	SWK 8081	No. of Modules: 3	120 credits at M Level	QUB Ms Bernadette Hamilton Programme Co-ordinator Millennium Community Outreach Centre 400 Springfield Road BELFAST BT12 7DU Tel: 90900016 Email: asw.admin@belfasttrust.hscni.net
Law, Ethics and Applied Law in Mental Health	SWK 8082	Requirements: 1 – 9 (Full Award)
Context and Concepts in Mental Health	SWK 8083

Target Group

The Programme is applicable to qualified social workers who wish to be considered for the role of Approved Social Worker by their employing Health and Social Care Trust.

Delivery

Delivery of the ASW Programme involves contributors from a wide range of backgrounds and disciplines. They include service users and carers; existing ASWs and other social care staff; a range of staff from multi-disciplinary backgrounds including psychiatry, psychology and nursing; court and other legal advisers; university staff and representatives from the Social Services Inspectorate and RQIA.

Focus

The course is delivered in three modules:

Module 1 facilitates ASWs in training to apply to their practice, knowledge and critical understanding of the context and concepts of the field of mental health in order to make informed decisions regarding the care and treatment of people with a mental disorder. The second module is focussed on acquiring the knowledge and critical understanding of the legal and policy framework for practising ethically as an ASW in Northern Ireland. This module also facilitates a critical understanding of codes of practice, standards and policies guiding mental health practice and the ability to use these creatively to safeguard and promote the welfare of service users, their carers and others. The final module should enable Approved Social Workers in training to demonstrate that they have acquired the knowledge and skills necessary for competent practice and are able to critically analyse and reflect on their practice to ensure continuing professional development within a framework of best practice.

Assessment

Assessment is via assignment, presentation, examination and portfolio.

Entry Requirements

Social Workers seeking nomination to the ASW Training Programme must:

- Be registered with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council
- Hold a Degree in Social Work, Diploma in Social Work, CSS, CQSW or predecessor equivalent. Social Workers trained outside of NISCC jurisdiction must produce a letter of comparability with these awards or a letter of verification issued by NISCC
- Be nominated by a Health and Social Care Trust which will undertake to provide support and appropriate learning opportunities

- Have at least two years post-qualifying experience or one year's experience in addition to the Assessed Year in Employment (AYE) by the date of the commencement of the Programme. Candidates employed prior to the introduction of the Degree in Social Work will normally be required to hold PQ1. Those who have completed the Degree in Social Work will be expected to have successfully completed a minimum of two Consolidation requirements in the Professional in Practice (PiP) Framework
- Have a Second Class Second Division Honours Degree or higher academic award or the full PQ Award. Candidates not holding one of these qualifications are required to satisfy Queen's University Belfast, of their suitability for post-graduate study by completing a 2,000-word assignment
- Have recent experience of working with clients with a mental disorder. Where a social worker does not have prior experience of working with people with a mental disorder they should undertake appropriate preparation before and/or during Module 1 of the training programme. Any such preparation must be agreed in advance with the ASW Programme and recorded in the candidate's learning agreement
- Be in a position to access the work required to develop and demonstrate competence in their work with people who have a mental disorder and their carers. It will be the responsibility of the employer to ensure that these opportunities for practice and necessary support are in place for the candidate during the course of the Programme
- Be able to commit to attend all taught days
- Be allocated a Practice Assessor who meets the Programme's criteria for Practice Assessors
- Following successful completion of the programme, seek continued opportunities to practise as an ASW to promote consolidation and professional development
- Be enrolled on the PiP Specialist Award on the NISCC portal.

Practice Teaching in Social Work Module 2	SWK 746	Requirements: 1 – 9 (Full Award)		Mr Gerry Heery Programme Co-ordinator Practice Teacher Programme Millennium Community Outreach Centre 400 Springfield Road BELFAST BT12 7DU Tel: 90900016 Email: ciara.mcglinchy@belfasttrust.hscni.net

Target Group

The programme is applicable to social workers who are 2 years qualified post AYE and wish to be practice teachers for students on the Degree in Social Work. The programme would be aimed at candidates who have consolidated practice in a particular area of work.

Delivery

Learning and teaching will be a combination of interactive lectures and seminars. The learning and teaching strategy will include a blended learning approach with contributions from academic staff alongside agency partners. Small group teaching, debates and discussion will enable students to develop deeper understanding, challenge ideas presented and learn from each other.

In addition to the taught days and web based learning each student will receive supervision from a designated practice assessor to mentor them on specific areas of practice and identify areas for future learning.

Self-directed study - students studying at this level are expected to manage their work and take responsibility for their own learning utilising the formal teaching and resource material. Students will be guided to some core reading but will also be expected to identify additional literature. Individual study and directed reading promotes independent learning and stimulates critical analysis and personal reflection.

Focus

The programme consists of 2 modules:

Module one prepares social work practitioners in their preparation and planning for the effective delivery of the practice learning opportunity (PLO) for undergraduate social work students in line with the NISCC Practice Learning Standards and BSC (Hons) Social Work requirements. This module is designed to equip students with the knowledge and skills to help them develop an appropriate induction programme and prepare competently for the PLO.

Module two is focused on management of the Practice Learning Opportunity and assessment of the student. This module aims to enable candidates to manage supervision of the student within the context of relevant policies, procedures and the agency context. There is a focus on models of assessment and supervision in the context of adult learning theory and other relevant theoretical frameworks.

Assessment

Students are required to complete a number of preparatory tasks which include completion of a practice learning checklist for the preparedness for hosting a social work student. The designated practice assessor will review this work and provide feedback using the 3 and 3 model (three strengths and three developmental areas).

Assessment also consists of assignments and direct observations of the candidate in supervision with their social work student. The direct observations are carried out by the practice assessor with some being video recorded.

Students/candidates are required to submit a practice teacher report detailing the progress of the BSc (hons) social work student they supervised whilst on placement. Reports must use the template in the Regional Practice Learning Handbook provided by the Northern Ireland Degree in Social Work Partnership.

The practice teacher report is assessed on a pass/fail basis by the practice assessor. Written feedback is provided by the practice assessor on the quality of the practice teaching report.

All elements of the assessment must be passed for the student to successfully complete the programme.

Entry Requirements

Applicants must:

- Have a professional qualification in social work (e.g. C.S.S., C.Q.S.W., Diploma in Social Work, or BSc (Hons) Social Work)
- Be registered with NISCC as a qualified social worker
- Be enrolled on the PiP Specialist Award on the NISCC portal
- Possess a minimum of two years post-AYE qualifying experience in social work practice (preferably with the last six months of experience having been spent in the current work setting)
- Be engaged for at least 12 hours per week in a paid or voluntary capacity in a designated social work post in which core social work values underpin practice and which provides supervised opportunity to practise social work in a professional role (including management, training, organisation development and regulatory roles as well as direct practice with clients, families, groups and communities)
- Have the support of your employer or supervisor of voluntary work to undertake study (verification of this may be required)
- Have the agreement of your employer or supervisor of voluntary work that the work of the organisation can be presented in order to meet the requirements of the modules
- Satisfy Ulster University and the PiP Partnership (NISCC) of your ability to undertake study at postgraduate degree level, by holding one of the following:
 - A second class honours degree (or higher)
 - An equivalent standard (normally 50%) in a graduate certificate or graduate diploma
 - A postgraduate certificate or postgraduate diploma or an approved alternative qualification

If you do not hold one of the above qualifications you will need to undertake a 2000 word entry assignment. Please contact pgsocialwork@ulster.ac.uk for further information.

Young Child Observation - Year 2	PA 7076

Target Group

This course is offered to experienced professionals working with children, young people and their carers who are interested in applying detailed observation and a psychoanalytic framework in their practice. This is a multidisciplinary course targeted at social workers, nurses, health visitors, child psychiatrists and other allied health professionals. It provides for the development of in-depth knowledge and skills in assessing and working with children in need, those who are at risk and children who are subject to a care order. In particular, the course content is especially helpful to social workers with its intense focus on attachment problems and related difficulties between caregivers and their children.

Delivery

This programme is delivered collaboratively by Child and Adolescent Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy, Northern Ireland (CCAPNI), the Tavistock and Portman NHS Trust, the University of Essex and a range of agency partners from social work, psychiatry, psychology, teaching, psychoanalysis and paediatrics.

Focus

The focus of the programme is on infant and young child observation; psychoanalytic theory and child development research.

In module 1 there is an emphasis on developing a clearer understanding of ordinary early development, communication and relationships through the experience of observing and being able to systematically apply key psychoanalytic ideas and approaches and child development research concepts in illuminating the student's own and others' observations.

Module 2 involves a study of psychoanalytic theory and development of a frame of reference for formulating hypotheses about the meaning of observations. This module builds on module 1.

Assessment

Assessment methods include a portfolio comprising 2 infant observation descriptions and a reflective essay; discussion papers; essays; observation material.

Entry Requirements

Applicants must:

- Have at least one year of prior experience (paid or voluntary) directly working with children and/or adolescents and/or families
- Have an interest in, and aptitude for, learning about emotional development, observation and psychoanalytic thinking; be currently undertaking direct work with children, young people, parents or families, for a minimum one to two days per week
- Have a first degree, (Degree in Social Work for social work applicants) or the equivalent, or be able to demonstrate that you can meet the academic demands of the course
- Provide two references, one from an employer who can give an account of your work with children
- Be registered on Part 1 of the NISCC register (social work applicants)
- Be enrolled on the PiP Specialist Award on the NISCC portal.
